A new business location in Mönchengladbach

Papp Logistics creates numerous jobs for the region.

On a warehouse area of 21,000 square metres, Papp Logistics is creating numerous crisisproof and future-proof jobs in Mönchengladbach, thereby establishing an innovative, sustainable location. This strengthens the regional economy and offers employees and customers secure prospects, many years of expertise in food logistics as well as a modern working environment.

'We look forward to shaping the future together with you. As a modern employer and strong partner, we enable freshness, quality and innovation,' says Maximilian Papp from the management team.

The new location is also attractive for customers: The modern refrigerated warehouse enables the precise storage of temperature-sensitive goods in different zones. With the help of sustainable technologies, high efficiency and quality can be achieved in cold chain logistics. As an expert in the field of refrigerated logistics, Papp Logistics realises customer requirements individually and flexibly.
